Lt. Col. V. E. Pringle Addresses Two Public Week-End Meetings

Lt. Col. V. E. Pringle, of Vancouver, B.C., came to Vulcan during the week end under auspices of the Vulcan Young Men's section of the British Israel World Federation. He was billed to speak in the Vulcan theatre at 3 p.m. on the subject of "Allenby in Palestine," which address was held as scheduled. But by popular demand he addressed an evening meeting, not advertised, on the subject of "Ethiopia." Both meetings were fairly well attended and the local organization cleared expenses through collections.

In the afternoon, Albert Collier was chairman of the meeting. Rev. E. G. Hansell, M.P., gave a short introductory talk. The meeting was opened with doxology and prayer. The guest speaker was preceded by a solo selection by Wm. Walker accompanied by his sister, Miss Beulah Walker at the piano. Rev. Hansell gave a scripture reading from the second Psalm. A quartette, Misses Wismer, Gonyea, Jones and Hansell, rendered a song selected.

Lt. Col. Pringle launched into his topic, "Allenby in Palestine," by preliminary genealogies as made by comparing history and the Bible. He commenced at a period, a B.C. era, with the House of David and traced the lineage to the House of Israel, as referred to by British Israel enthusiasts today. He traced history of the two as they have lived and fought side by side, and as they later followed their own courses. Quoting liberally from Daniel Obiviat, with a Thoroughfeten's translation to supplement the St. James' version, Mr. Pringle proved the Old Testament to be a store of knowledge for those who wish to connect the historical events with those cited in facts and prophecy in the Bible.

He told of the situation of Palestine in 1916 by the introduction of conditions. The Turks were advancing rapidly and in possession of Palestine. England had maintained a force of 30,000 men, with headquarters at Nantara, along the Suez Canal. The situation, as sized up by Kitchener, demanded men further north. There were 180 miles of soft, blistering sand to overcome, said the speaker. This was done by utilizing chicken wire for infantry, iron tire for transport wagons, and heavy braicings on the wheels of the gun carriages. Water was piped through pipes commandered from the Imperial Oil Co. The trek accomplished, the soldiers were met at Samson's Ridge by the Turks, strongly enforced. The first and second battles of Gaza ensued with heavy casualties for the British and no advances were made, explained Mr. Pringle. General Murray was replaced and the third battle of Gaza followed with as much success as the other battles had been failures. Advance was made to the village of Lef-tar, out of Jerusalem in possession of the Turks. After many exchanges as the village was taken and the formal acceptance of the keys of Jerusalem made without pomp in the name of all religions. The freedom of the city was proclaimed for all religions.

The further conquest of Palestine continued. Jaffa was taken when the Turkish commander fled leaving the army in disorder. The pass was as quickly made along Estralon and Jezreal. The army of Turks were hemmed in on the north, south, east and west by troops. The surrender of Palestine was then not only imminent, but a fact, concluded the speaker. God Save the King concluded the afternoon meeting and the evening meeting was announced for 9 o'clock.

In the evening a good crowd attended to hear Lt. Col. Pringle speak on a very interesting subject, Ethiopia. The speaker was introduced by Dr. G. M. Carson. He went into the evening lecture by continuing from his speech of the afternoon. He likened Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini to the three dictators prophesied in the Bible. A very interesting pamphlet was passed around throughout the audience containing photos of a present day demonstration, as part of the political propaganda being circulated by Mussolini. These were huge plaques, depicting the growth of the

O. E. S. Entertainment Well Received Here

During the evening of Wednesday, November 6th, there was an entertainment and social, sponsored by the Ferrisole Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, held in the Oddfellows' hall, Vulcan. The entertainment was well staged and was received by a large enthusiastic audience with much applause. The programme was followed by dancing and luncheon.

Included on the entertainment programme was a very comical pantomime that brought rounds of applause and roars of laughter. This was entitled "The Lamp Went Out," directed by Mrs. L. H. Jones. Words to suit the action were read by Mrs. D. McAfee. The cast was Mrs. Jones, Mrs. L. Leverington, Miss Patsy McAfee, W. E. Butchart and F. L. Simington. Individual numbers included piano solos by Mrs. Charles Short. Mr. Neil Campbell sang two Scotch songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wm. Campbell, and Miss Rose Hartwig sang a few selections, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mabel McPherson.

Following these numbers was a one-act comedy with an old lady cast "Mrs. Apple and Her Corps." This play was well received by the audience with laughter and applause. The cast included Mrs. Neil Campbell, Mrs. Wm. Campbell, Mrs. Roy Gold, Mrs. Lorne Leverington, Miss Lynette Parslow, Miss Helen Simington, Mrs. L. F. Dawson, Mrs. Dave McAfee and Miss L. Fair. The play was directed by Mrs. Wm. Campbell.

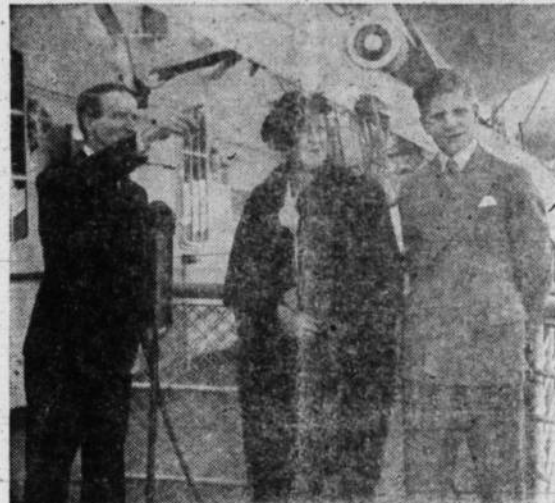

One hour of dancing followed the programme, the dancing in turn being followed by luncheon served by the ladies of the lodge. Dancing then again continued until the early hours of the morning. Misses Edna McPherson and Ruth Peterson provided the dance music.

old Roman Empire, to the time of its height. This, he claims, Mussolini has announced, he intends to reinstate. Abyssinia is the first spot, claimed the speaker. Following that there must be a coup of Egypt. Mr. Pringle illustrated how Egypt could be devastated by the destroying of Lake Tana and its complement river from which spring the waters collected by the Assuan dam to irrigate the country. Without this water supply Egypt would be arid, barren and unfruitful. The speaker suggested that following this step, Italy should capture Palestine, using Jerusalem as the place of the seat of the government. However, Soviet Russia also has designs on Jerusalem, Mr. Pringle claimed, believing that by the destruction of the seat of three religions, Christianity, Mohammadism and Judaism, her first step in sovietizing the world would be accomplished.

Using the Bible as a book of prophecy, Lt. Col. Pringle interpreted the following prophecies: First, Abyssinia would be taken by Italy, which also means that the Suez would be lost. That opposing forces would clash in Palestine. That enormous earthquake would split the Mount of Olives, check the army in Estralon, release the hidden waters under the district surrounding Jerusalem and liven the Dead Sea by addition of fresh water. He prophesied that the hope of the House of Israel would be in prayer. The Bible promises deliverance to those units of the House who ask for it, the speaker said.

He remarked that it would be as during the Great War. When all seemed done, the capture of Paris certain and the fall of the Empire the next step, a national day of prayer, proclaimed by King George V, had somewhat been the turning point. Why wait until all seems hopeless. Why use God as the last resource—why not pray now, concluded the speaker.

Governor General Expert Guide

Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir spent much time on deck as the Canadian Pacific SS. Duchess of Richmond steamed up the St. Lawrence. In the above picture Canada's new Governor-General, who is a distinguished historian as well as a successful writer of romantic adventure stories, pointed out historic landmarks of Canada's Ancient Capital to Lady Tweedsmuir and his son, the Hon. Alastair Buchan, as the liner neared Quebec.

Charles L. Sallstrom Vulcan Oldtimer Dies

On Wednesday, November 6th, Charles Ludwig Sallstrom, aged 73 years, died at his farm home south of Vulcan. He had been ailing for many, many years, and for the past year had been bed-ridden practically all the time. Death came suddenly at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Sallstrom was born at Gottenburg, Sweden, on March 13th, 1862. He came to the United States when 23 years of age, taking up a homestead 20 miles from Spokane. During his time of residence in the south country he lived in the state of Missouri for a number of years. He came to Canada in 1904, taking up homestead lands in the Reid Hill district. In 1914 he sold this farm and returned to Spokane, Washington, for a period of two years. On his return to this territory he settled on farm land two miles south of Vulcan, where he has since resided, with the exception of a term of residence in town.

Surviving his death are his widow, Emma, and only child, Helen, Sallstrom of Calgary. Two half-brothers survive, Oscar Carlson of Spokane, and Arthur Carlson, who resides in Sweden. One half-sister, also survives, Mrs. Nilsson of Mallen, Sweden.

Funeral services were held from the Vulcan United Church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. P. G. McPherson officiating. Interment was made in the Vulcan cemetery under direction of the Kelly Funeral Home. Pallbearers were L. Dowell, D. McIntyre, P. Dorch, H. Dorch, J. Dorch, and Hans Lundgren.

J. H. Deans attended a convention of the Church of Christ churches throughout Alberta, held in Calgary during the week end.

Roy Walker of Vulcan and Mr. and Mrs. George Bateman of Brant returned on Monday morning to their respective homes from a visit to Winnipeg, attending the U.G.G. convention.

Due to the roads being drifted with snow on Saturday, the councillors of the M.D. of Royal were unable to make the journey to Vulcan to attend the regular session of the council. The meeting was postponed until this Wednesday.

A whist and bridge drive and an evening of dancing will be held in the Canadian Legion hall on Wednesday, November 20th, commencing at 8:30 p.m. Supper will be supplied by the Mothers' Association to the Boy Scouts. Advertisement appears in another column.

The group meeting of the Vulcan Ladies' Aid will be held at the following homes on Thursday, November 21st. Group number 1 at the home of Mrs. C. Kettleton, group number two at the home of Mrs. Frank Clarke group number three at the home of Mrs. Fred Anderson, and group number four at the home of Mrs. Neil Campbell. Members will kindly make note.

Cubmaster Doney and Cub Pack Tendered With Banquet-Show

District Delegates Attend C.G.I.T. Rally

A splendid C.G.I.T. Rally was held in the United church on Thursday, November 6th. Delegates of groups from Nanton, Blackie, Carleton Place and Vulcan were registered, over 100 girls and many leaders attending. The group assembled in the main auditorium of the church, where a hearty singing was enjoyed. These activities were directed by Miss Annie Smith, Calgary, girls' work secretary for Alberta, and Miss Evelyn Crow, Toronto, national girls' work secretary.

At 5:30 o'clock all assembled in the church hall where a banquet was served with the help of the Vulcan mothers, the girls' work board, Messdames N. Campbell, H. B. Ulrich and P. G. McPherson, and the leaders of the Vulcan groups, Messdames Lebeau and Jantzie and Miss M. E. Jounijohn. Miss Crow arranged the girls at the banquet table according to the month of their birth and asked each girl to turn to the girl on the right, give her her name in full; her home town name and what she would have liked to have been named. This was done to get the girls acquainted. A happy hour was spent at the table, during which time several games were played.

At seven o'clock the girls marched quietly, in single file, into the church for a service of worship conducted by Miss Crow, with Miss Ruth Peterson at the piano. The singing of "Follow the Glean" opened the service. In a simple, effective style Miss Crow spoke to the congregation of teen aged girls. All listened attentively and received a real inspirational message that would teach the girls to live nearer the C.G.I.T. purpose, more than ever before.

Misses Smith and Crow addressed a mothers' meeting in the church during the afternoon of the same day. Both were guests at the mammoth while in Vulcan.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, of Calgary, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave McAfee for a few days this week.

The Mothers' Auxiliary to the Boy Scouts and Cubs are sponsoring a tea and programme in the auditorium of the Legion hall, Saturday, November 16th, from 3 to 5:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of dishes for the Scout hall.

With the cold snap flooding of the Vulcan curling club's three sheets of ice has advanced rapidly. A meeting of the club is being held this Thursday evening for the selection of skips enrollment of members, setting of fees, and other business. It is expected that the curling season will open during the week end. Flooding of the ice sheet in the Vulcan arena for skating and hockey is in full swing since last Thursday. A good undersheet has been laid and, if the sub-zero temperature continues, skating should start next week sometime. The rink committee of the Town of Vulcan has employed Eddie Love as rink man for the season.

Under the heading of "Skate in Pack Opener" in the Seattle Post-Intelligence, issue of Sunday, November 3rd, appears a newspaper picture of Earl Robson of Vulcan with the following quotation: "A smart stick handling from Vulcan, Alberta, is one of the new men in the amateur hockey league this season. He will play centre for Bill Biggs' Ballard team." The picture appears in connection with a write-up of the opening of the amateur season in Seattle. Gordon Ratten, another Vulcan boy, is playing left wing for the same team. The Ballards lost their first game, according to press reports received by the Advocate, 5-2, against the Elks' club. Both former Vulcan players figured in both tallies. Ratten assisted in one and Robson scored on an assist for the other. The Vulcan players appear to be very popular in the U.S.

A most enjoyable evening was spent on Tuesday, November 5th, in the basement hall of the Church of Christ, when Cubmaster Doney and his Cub pack of some 25 boys with four of the older Scouts who have been assisting with the Cub work, were entertained at a banquet. This expression was offered by the mothers of the cubs due to the fact that the pack was unable to attend camp during the summer months. The planning and serving of the supper was carried out by the lady members of the group committee, Messdames Greene, Kennedy, King and Marshall.

The banquet table was tastefully decorated with the Cub colors and baskets of fruit. Many "ans and ons" were heard when the boys were seated at the table. The plates were bountifully laden with good things to eat. Cubmaster Doney asked Master Billy Kennedy to offer the blessing. Following this the boys entered into the banquet spirit with gusto that was amply justified by the tasty victuals.

At the conclusion of the meal Mr. Doney expressed his appreciation of the interest that was shown by the mothers in tendering such a pleasant affair. He asked Senior Sister Edward Stack to move a vote of thanks on behalf of the Cub pack, which Master Stack did very nicely. The motion was heartily seconded by all with three rousing cheers and a tiger for the ladies for their kindness.

As a fitting climax the whole pack and their master were entertained with motion pictures at the Vulcan theatre. This entertainment was provided by the Mothers' Auxiliary and Mr. C. R. Robson, who very generously offered matinee prices for the occasion.

Scout Association Elect New Officers

The annual meeting of the Parents' Association, sponsoring the Scouts and Cubs in Vulcan, was held Wednesday evening of last week in the Scout hall. As the meeting had been postponed from the previous Monday, and unfortunately conflicted with other events in town, it was not very well attended. R. L. Elves, the president of the group, called the meeting to order. L. H. Greene read the minutes of the organization meeting. Reports were read by E. L. Parsons, chairman of the group committee, and the financial statement was presented by R. W. McFarlane, secretary-treasurer.

It was decided to ask the annual district conference delegates from each group in the district to convene at Vulcan in the near future. The group also extended invitation to officials for the holding of the annual Scout and Cub rally to be held in Vulcan some time during the coming year.

A vote of thanks was extended to Scoutmaster Allred and Cubmaster Doney for their keen interest and performance of work with the boys. Thanks was also tendered the retiring officers and the Mothers' Association for their valuable promotion financially.

Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the executive of the association being all returned to office by unanimous vote. R. L. Elves was again elected president; Mrs. Mae Todd was elected vice-president and L. H. Greene was elected secretary-treasurer. Rev. E. G. Hansell, M.P., was the unanimous choice as honorary president. Members of the group committee were returned to office with the exception of Mrs. A. J. Kennedy and Rev. E. G. Hansell. Their resignations were accepted and Mrs. Jack Marshall and Neil Campbell were selected to fill the vacated offices.

The group committee now includes E. L. Parsons, Mrs. L. H. Greene, R. W. McFarlane, Neil Campbell, Mrs. Errett King and Mrs. Jack Marshall. The group committee held a reorganization meeting and officers were elected for the year.

WHY WE ARE AS WE ARE

Looking back through the past one sees very good reason, or at any rate, excuse, for Albertans being as they are. They are so often reproached for over-optimism and for a volatility quite incomprehensible to more sedate parts of Canada. But any one following Alberta's history would understand why the people of this province are gifted, or afflicted with, a boundless faith in next year, and an acceptance of the belief that almost anything may happen.

Climatically we are attuned to sudden changes and to nature's miraculous recuperative powers. Season after season, we have seen crops fluctuate between success and failure, alternately destroying hopes and reviving them. We have seen veritable miracles of yield, and we have seen most unexpected disaster.

But our minds prefer to dwell on the happy miracles. It is little wonder that we are more responsive to any type of change than those who live in a less exciting, high-powered atmosphere.

In the "auld lang syne" of a week or two ago, it was perhaps noted by our readers that the crops of 1916 yielded in most parts of southern Alberta, an average of $85 to the acre. One instance in the earlier years which could be multiplied almost without limit, is that of a man who bought a half section at $18.00 an acre, and the next year realized $38.00 an acre from the land, most of which was cropped. With good reason it has been said that quite a proportion of Albertans have already made and lost two or three fortunes and still face the future with a confidence that miracles may be in the offing.

The Stettler Independent describes Alberta people in the following scientific fashion: "The Albertanos represent a high state of civilization and their frontal skull development is broader and deeper than that of the Saskatoon and Mapitobanos who live further east. Down in Ontario there are inter-related tribes known as Hurons, Iroquois, Ottawas, etc., but they represent a different type altogether, especially the Ottawas. These have developed a cynical indifference toward change of any kind and are practically immune to all political or economic epidemics.

"But the Albertanos will catch anything infectious. They are the men who keep the country going and are the aborigines who first carried the banner 'Hope Springs Eternal'.

"Socially speaking, they are an expansive race, full of amiability and back-slapping. They are searchers and investigators into the unknown and they have a stupendous capacity for believing. The average Albertano is a rock-ribbed optimist."

CONSERVATION OF YOUTH

Those who attended the picture theatre recently must have been impressed by the dramatic presentation of the work of the Civilian Construction Corps, instituted under President Roosevelt. Under its operation, unemployed young men, wasting in idleness, were gathered up and mobilized for reforestation and conservation work, and for all type of public works construction. In many instances they were of inferior physique, of undisciplined habits and far from desirable as a type. However, active outdoor work, regular training and healthy influences have transformed the majority of these into capable, happy and useful workmen, well-fitted to take their place in life as suitable occupations develop.

Although it is realized that the picture presented would be of the brightest possible nature, with little emphasis on weaknesses which undoubtedly must exist, yet any personal contact with these young C.C.C.-ers does bear out the fact that there is a vigor and a morale in these camps far different from the "relief camps" of our own country.

For one thing the United States authorities make no secret of the value to the country of the work accomplished by this corps. In fact they play up the work that has been done, and what it means to the country in vast millions of dollars. This undoubtedly must have an influence in creating that sense of usefulness, so necessary to the pride of any worker. He must have a value placed on his work, before he can feel that it is worth while. The work all over United States has been publicized and pictured, to build up a structure of worthwhile citizenship. A pat on the back is a great restorative, and an incentive to good conduct and reasonable contentment.

No such campaign has been conducted in Canada. There has been entirely too much indifference if not secrecy toward what our relief camps are actually accomplishing. In almost all press stories the authorities seem to take a defensive attitude, emphasizing what they are doing for the workers rather than what the workers are doing for the country. That is mistaken psychology, much more likely to breed discontent, than a fair and just acknowledgment of service rendered.

Another glaring difference is the use of terms. There is clearly a difference between "Civilian Construction Corps" and "Relief Camp," yet exactly the same type of boys. More poor psychology.

Admitted that Canada does not lend itself to the diversity of work and all year round work possible in United States there are many respects in which the Canadian treatment of its unfortunate young men, can take lessons from the country to the south.

RURAL LIBRARIES

A new move has been made by Premier Aberhart, Minister of Education, in introducing a circulating school library for rural schools.

In its experimental stage, the scheme will be tried out in Southern Alberta, operating in a block of 250 schools of the foothill country south of Calgary. The books would be kept two months in one school, and moved on to another, keeping a constant circulation of literature suited to the varying ages of the school children.

In many homes of Alberta, the children are completely dependent for reading, upon what the school library can afford. And the resources of the average school district do not run to a well stocked library, or any library. The result is that many children grow up never having formed the reading habit. They have never explored the treasure house of books. They know nothing of the infinite happiness to be found in the adventures, romances, experiences and philosophy of the world's writers. The love of reading solaces lonely hours, challenges the mind, provides enduring pleasure, a comfort and a refuge throughout a life time.

It is in youth as a rule, that this habit of reading is formed, and it is a habit which safeguards many an individual from the restlessness and temptations of unsupervised pursuits. In instituting such a service in rural schools Mr. Aberhart is stimulating a healthy appetite which should be encouraged. He is feeding little minds hungry for the bright world of make-believe.

The revolving nature of the library is an advantage as it will provide variety and continuing interest. The cry is constantly for more cultural advantages for rural schools, and this is one start in that direction.

STORY WITH A MORAL

"Recently a church congregation in a little Kansas town built a new church. To pay for it they were obliged to call on the merchants of the community for donations. The merchants responded liberally and $300 was raised from that source. The last man asked to subscribe was John Smith, a merchant. 'I will give you $20.00 if you will allow me to add something to the list' he said. The permission was granted and he wrote at the foot of the list:

John Smith $20.00
Mail Order House $100.00
Peddler and Transient Trader .. $300.00

The church people saw the point when the minister read from the pulpit a list of the donors to the building fund, and since the dedication of that church there have been no more mail orders sent out from that town.—Exchange.

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

From Ottawa Journal

We liked that touch yesterday when Premier-Elect King turned up at the wedding of the daughter of Mr. H. P. Hill, who only a few days ago was fighting Mr. King's party, proposing her health. For it was in the good sporting wholesome spirit of Mr. Bennett's Monday call on Mr. King, to shake hands with and congratulate him, to facilitate his taking over the government. As long as we Canadians can exhibit that temper, can deal with our problems in good humor and manly fairness, not much harm can come to us.

It is the British way. After the long, bitter controversy over the Reform Bill, Lord Salisbury, his party beaten, said this:

"It is the duty of every Englishman and of every English party to accept a political defeat cordially and to lend their best endeavors to secure the success, or to neutralize the evil, of the principles to which they have been forced to succumb. England has committed many mistakes as a nation in the course of her history, but the mischiefs have been more than corrected by the heartiness with which, after each great struggle, victors and vanquished have forgotten their former battles and have combined together to lead the new policy to its best results. We have no wish to be unfaithful to so wholesome a tradition. As far, therefore, as our Liberal adversaries are concerned, we shall dismiss the long controversy with the expression of an earnest hope that their sanguine confidence may prove in the results to have been wiser than our fears."

Such is the true spirit. And such also is the saving grace of democracy, the thing which at once covers and compensates for all of its faults, which makes it a system of government superior to all others.

VERY MUCH ALIVE

It must be with somewhat mixed feelings that the U.F.A. political party reads the comments on its past administration. Even those newspapers which were unceasing in their criticism, during its regime have paid their tribute to several very good business coups made under the U.F.A. power, and to no grievous errors of judgment. It is altogether likely that many of those who voted and worked against the government, did not intend that there should be such a complete defeat.

But in many of the tributes now being paid there is an obituary tone, the tone usually reserved for speaking well of the dead. This is surely a mistaken view.

The U.F.A. as a political party is surely very much alive. It counts in its numbers many able and experienced administrators who are quite unlikely to renounce all political ambition because of one defeat. The local branches have developed greatly in their interest in governmental affairs since 1921. One has only to recall those unorganized voluble annual conventions of the early days, in contrast with the present orderly and business-like assemblies to realize the changes that have taken place in outlook and political intelligence in the past fourteen years. An organization so strong and capable minded is not going to expire because of one decisive rebuff. It may not be in position to dictate legislation for the time being, but it has a most effective organization, which is held together by mutual, all year round interests and one can afford to wait. It is almost a safe prediction that the U.F.A. party is as firmly entrenched in Alberta as any of the older parties.

And added to the U.F.A. is the strength of the women. No other political organization of women can compare with the U.F.W.A. It has done an admirable work, not only socially, but also through its representations to government. It has developed a very high average of intelligence amongst its members, and there are no women better informed politically, or more keenly interested in matters of government. Daily life on the farm is a price-less lesson in taking rebuffs without weakening, in looking forward to another year, and in never admitting that one is through. Strengthened by both men and women, the U.F.A. is still a vital body, and its eclipse may be only temporary in the political world.

FOR GROWING CHILDREN

It is practically impossible to give growing children too much milk. They demand lots of it and their extreme activity requires the quick rebuilding which only wholesome milk can provide. FLETCHER'S MILK is consumed in great quantities daily by children. They have it with every meal at home and for lunch at school. A glass of milk is the best in-between-meal food. THINGS ARE NOT WHAT THEY SEEM

A newspaper man has made the following collection of freaks in advertising, and shows what the misplacing or omission of a word or comma does for a sentence:

Wanted—A furnished room by an old lady with electric lights.

Wanted—A room by a young gentleman with both kinds of gas.

YOUTH EXPRESSES ANOTHER VIEW

Country Gives Constant Ear to War Service; What of Those Who Are Denied All Useful Service

There are no more interesting columns in the newspapers than the correspondence columns, which give expression to personal views. In a recent issue of the Calgary Herald, a young man giving his address as Cayley, wrote a letter, in which he intimated that there are others to be considered besides those who fought in the Great War, and who thus enjoyed at least a little moment of a sense of heroism and usefulness.

The public may or may not agree with all the sentiments, but this is the substance of the letter.

"Why the sub-sister stuff regarding dismissal of 'war widows,' etc., at Edmonton that appeared on the front page of Tuesday's Herald. Is it not a fact that the government provides very generously for war widows I am not a Social Creditor, I don't understand it yet. I am just one of the so-called 'future generation' the war was supposed to have benefited so greatly. Since leaving school I have been kicked around from pillar to post trying to make a bare living. In two instances I have had to give place to persons already drawing a fat pension from the government for services rendered during the war, which services, upon investigation, did not amount to any more than I rendered as a Boy Scout during the war. There are a great many young women of the same 'future generation' today supporting their mothers and others on a miserable pittance, far less than the allowance given to war widows. Give the 'future generation' a break. They and other generations to come will have to pay for that four years of 'ballyhoo,' bombast and destruction. By all means, provide for the ones who really went into the front lines and took a chance, but let them be satisfied with that provision."

OUR ADVISER ROBERT J MAGOR

Present Financial Guide in Alberta's Affairs Has Great Business Qualifications

Who is Robert J. Magor of Montreal, who is engaged for six months as the financial adviser of the province?

His name is most certainly associated with the re-organization of Newfoundland finances. In 1927-28 he was particularly interested in ore deposits in Newfoundland, and at the request of the Newfoundland government was identified with the re-organization of the commercial activities of the governments railways, drydocks and steamship services. Relief controller of the Island which included charities, unemployment relief.

Was later requested to assist in the securing of funds for the meeting of the interest on the national debt of Newfoundland, December, 1931, and June, 1932. The latter date he secured by disposing of the petroleum monopoly of the island to the Imperial Oil Co.

The essence of the deal was that they should subscribe to the extent of $1,750,000 in issue of $2,500,000 which was necessary to meet the interests on the national debt. This procedure was necessary in order to carry on finances of the country until the form of future government was determined, which has since resulted in the appointment of a Commission Government under the control of the British Government. FEWER BABIES THAN AFORETIME

Quebec's post-war birth rate was 37 per thousand of population. Now it is down to 25.3.

Ontario's post-war birth rate (1921) was 25.3. Now it is down to 17.4.

British Columbia's birth rate in 1926 was 17.7. Now it is down to 13.4.

Although Quebec has still the highest birth rate of any Canadian province, it is now no higher than Ontario's after the war.

And while Ontario has a medium birth rate, it has now fallen to a point which corresponds to that of British Columbia a few years ago. And British Columbia is the low rate province of Canada.

In Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia there has been no noticeable recent fall in rates. The Island, in fact has been showing higher birth rates than the average of 1926-30. But from Nova Scotia west to the Pacific the rates are on the decline, and that is true also of the all-Canadian rate. The process of rate reduction has been hastened by the depression, but it was already in progress for years prior to that.—Toronto Star.

CANADIAN PACIFIC*MOTHERS' AUXILIARY PLANS
TEA FOR SCOUT FUNDS

The regular monthly meeting of the Mothers' Auxiliary to the Boy Scouts and Cubs was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Clarke on Wednesday afternoon last. A busy afternoon was devoted to planning various activities of the assemblage. A motion was passed to continue, as in the past, to assist the Boy Scouts and Cubs in the purchase of uniforms. Plans were made for the serving of supper at the Armistice dance. Plans were made for the tea to be held in the auditorium of the Memorial hall on Saturday, November 16th, from 3 to 5:30 o'clock, proceeds from the tea to be used to purchase dishes for use in the Scout hall.

The hostess, Mrs. Clarke, served lunch following the meeting.

Premier Wm. Aberhart, addressing the teachers' convention in Calgary, said there was about $300,000 owing teachers in the province.

The fowl supper which was to have been held at the Church of Christ and was postponed, will be held Friday, November 15th, commencing at 5 p.m. Adults, 35c; children under twelve years, 20c. Those who purchased tickets for November 2nd may use them Friday, November 15th.

World Events

The new government of Alberta discovers that liquor is a luxury and therefore should be taxed to bring in $300,000 more. Almost every government at Ottawa made the same discovery and taxed spirits up to $10 a gallon. Small reductions were made under the Empire treaties. Later, the Finance Minister made still further reductions on condition that Liquor Control Boards would pass the reductions on to the public. The new Finance Minister may take the stand that the Alberta luxury tax is in contravention of the condition attached to the recent reduction.

A German General declares that his country needs colonies. It is usually a military man who advocates larger families and then discovers that territorial expansion is necessary to relieve the congestion. What he really wants is war.

Pity the sorrows of Sir Oswald Mosely. For several years he has been building up a Fascist organization in England with intent to cut a wide swath in the general elections. They are on now and he has decided the time is inopportune. He will therefore retire from the fray. Mussolini has made Mosely's adventure look ridiculous, where for a time it seemed to be formidable.

There were two Liberal members who are not in the King Ministry because at one time they were directors of the Manufacturers Finance Corporation. Their exclusion is brought about more in sorrow than in anger by the Premier's desire to rebuke Hon. H. H. Stevens, a co-director in the same ill-fated corporation. It will do good if it teaches members of parliament a lesson in the danger of lending their names to such enterprises and if it teaches the public to beware of companies that advertise directorates with a sprinkling of M.P.'s and M.P.P.'s. The investigation into the M.F.C. Corporation showed that directors were given big blocks of stock for nothing except the use of their names.

Hon. Winston Churchill is right. If the League of Nations is exerting any influence it is because it is backed up by British ships in the Mediterranean. But Britain cannot and will not do it all. Premier Baldwin has made it plain enough that Britain must have the co-operation of other member nations before embarking on military measures as well as economic sanctions against Italy. The sanctions alone would be sufficient if generally applied, but to make a boycott effective is a difficult matter. Trade rivalries and the greed for gain will find holes in the boycott, as blockade-runners did during the American Civil War.

An Ottawa despatch represents Premier King as "punishing" Alberta for its waywardness by excluding this province from representation in his Cabinet. This criticism is rather far-fetched and unjust. If Alberta wanted representation in the Cabinet the least thing it could have done was to furnish Mr. King with the necessary material out of which Cabinet Ministers are created. Doubtless Hon. Charles Stewart would be a Cabinet Minister again if he had been re-elected.

The new government joins in the economic sanctions against Italy. There was no other course open to Mr. King or to Mr. Bennett had he been returned. The issue was kind Sandy—"When is Annie McTavish going to let you marry her?" Andy—"It's very uncertain. Some person gave her a big box o'notepaper with her name printed on it. She won't get married till it's used up—an' she writes very few letters on account of the postage."

Some highly amusing, and rather amazing, pronouncements are heard from radio broadcasters. For example, one night recently a Toronto announcer referred to Duke of Buccleuch as Duke of Buckluck. Rather tough on one of the oldest families in Scotland, dating back to 1320.—Barrie Examiner.

"Are you certain that defendant was drunk?" "No doubt," growled Officer Raynor "Why are you so almighty certain about?" said the judge. "Well," replied Raynor, "I saw him put a penny in the patrol box on Fourth Street and then he looked up at the clock on the Presbyterian Church and roared; 'Gosh, I've lost 14 pounds weight.'" enough to wait until after the elections were over, much to the relief of both leaders.

Il Duce calls upon Italians to meet the blockade by tightening their belts. They have to make sacrifices to extend civilization to a barbarous people. From what they say about Ethiopia one would naturally conclude it is not worth the price of admission and that the blacks are not worth redemption from savagery and slavery. Mussolini's hold on his people must be great when he can afford to belittle the prize for which he is contending so furiously and for which he is paying so high a price.

The Toronto Globe and several other dailies point with pride and pleasure to the defeat of Dr. McGibbon and other members who fought the C.N.R. management, and also to the triumphant return of all the members who stood by the C.N.R. in that fight. The grandeur and magnificence of the Thornton administration still exercise a spell over those newspapers. They had nothing but abuse for the small band of members that fought that spectacular but recklessly extravagant administration to a standstill and saved Canada many millions of dollars. In the elections those members went down to defeat, but while those newspapers are gloating over it, some one should remind an ungrateful public that that little band did the State some service.

Mr. King is criticized by some Liberals for giving six portfolios to Quebec and only four to Ontario. He is not unmindful that he owes more to Quebec than to any other province. Were it not for Quebec he would not have been selected as leader of the Liberal party against Mr. Fielding or Mr. Graham. That province has stood by him as faithfully ever since as it did for Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

There will be one lonely man in the next parliament—Hon. H. H. Stevens. He will get black looks from Conservatives. They blame him for the landslide, while Liberals give him no credit since he fought them as hard as he did his former allies. As Hon. C. H. Cahan has been elected, the blood-feud can continue. It was inevitable the two should clash—they are so much alike in temperament. They are able and ambitious and each has a good conceit in himself which makes him marvel why anyone else should be his leader.

110 YEARS OF AGELIKES HER TEA

Britain's Oldest Woman Drinks Several Pints Tea Daily

Believed to be the oldest woman in Britain, Mrs. Caroline Merriott celebrated her 110th birthday in Mayday Hospital, Croydon, by being hostess at a tea party.

Arrayed in her best clothes, and with a new white bonnet, she cut a birthday cake that had been specially made for the occasion, and entertained some of her friends.

In spite of her age, Mrs. Merriott is still an active woman mentally, and her voice is surprisingly strong. She eats three meals a day, and drinks several pints of tea with great enjoyment.

When she was born she was so small that for a week after her birth they could not put any clothes on her. She loves to recall her father's tale of how one of her uncles bet £100 that they could put her into a quart jug.

"They tried," she gleefully said, "and they got me in."

Born at Tooting Corner, ten years after Waterloo, Mrs. Merriott remembers the Crimean War, the Corn Law riots, and the Coronation of Queen Victoria. She has been married twice, and her second husband died in 1906.

She worked in a laundry until she was 85.—News of the World.

to do Business withANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to announce that we have disposed of our business at Vulcan to Mr. J. B. Morley, who will, in the future be carrying on under the name of Morley's Groceteria.

Mr. Morley has been our Manager since we opened for business at Vulcan in June 1926, and is well known in this and surrounding district. We bespeak for him a continuance of the business we have enjoyed these many years.

Mr. Morley is authorized to collect for us any outstanding accounts and make settlements of any transactions not completed at this date, November 15th, 1935.
